Our Story

For over 50 years Towellers has been weaving textiles that are a part of millions of lives. We're entwined into the narratives of our clients and we're part of their story.

A story that began in 1973, by Mr. Shaikh Mohammad Obaid, who founded a humble company of only 6 terry looms, making the finest towels in the market and turning that into a company called Towellers.

Within 10 years and his hard work, grit, and a vision to be the best, those 6 terry looms turned into a significant network of factories with a diversified portfolio of products both in Pakistan and abroad.

In 1986, Towellers knitted apparel gained scaling success achieving a top market position in the country.

For the next 32 years, Mr. Obaid expanded the business and made Towellers the trusted manufacturer globally, taking the 'Made in Pakistan' tag to international markets. Towellers successfully won the top exporter award for two decades.

In 2010, Towellers saw a change in leadership when Mehreen Obaid Agha was appointed as CEO. Taking her father's legacy as her guiding principle, she ensured the continuation of the values of Towellers where each client was treated as family and each product was produced to perfection.

Mrs. Mehreen Obaid Agha was later joined by her sisters as fellow board members. The Obaid sisters established themselves in the industry by taking their father's vision as their north star. They made Towellers a part of a handful of female-run textile companies in the region.

Today Towellers employs over 5000 employees, with exports of over $55 million. With scaling success in the knitwear apparel division, Towellers is continuously expanding its apparel manufacturing achieving a 75% year-over-year growth. Towellers facilities are operational day and night to produce exceptional textiles but what makes it so unique is that every thread tells a story of how a man and his daughters created a company that wanted to be a part of the lives of all its customers.
